

Jonathan Amador-Robles

Juvenile Justice Partnership Logo Contest Winner

WHEREAS, the Alameda County Board of Supervisors commend Jonathan Amador-Robles for winning the Juvenile Justice Partnership Logo Contest 2014; and

WHEREAS, the Juvenile Justice Partnership (JJP) is a collaborative partnership between governmental agencies, community providers, and stakeholders in Alameda County in support of youth and their families involved in the juvenile justice system; the goal is to develop a well-informed and coordinated support system that leads to improved outcomes for justice involved youth; and

WHEREAS, the Juvenile Justice Partnership launched a logo contest for justice involved youth, which was designed to allow probation youth an opportunity to create an image that represents the spirit of the Juvenile Justice Partnership. The logo will be used online, in print, on county merchandise, and as the official logo for the JJP; and

WHEREAS, Jonathan used his artistic skills and talents to design a logo that represents “the collaboration between partners creates opportunities for youth to succeed”. As the first place winner, Jonathan earned a pizza party for his peers, and an art supply kit; and

WHEREAS, there were many individuals assisting Jonathan in his achievement, including Alameda County Office of Education Teacher, Gwen Estes, who was instrumental in providing encouragement and support to Jonathan’s academic and artistic talents; and

WHEREAS, Institutional Supervisor Rashida Harper serves as a positive advocate and supporter of Jonathan’s skills and abilities and helped Jonathan submit his logo design by the contest deadline and coordinated the pizza party for Jonathan and his peers; and

WHEREAS, also Deputy Probation Officer Pamela Lee-Frison continues to support Jonathan’s connection to his family in support of his personal achievements and success, as well as, Juvenile Institutional Officer Johanne Moore assisted Jonathan with completing the logo contest application and Librarian Amy Cheney offered encouragement to Jonathan and supports his academic skills, talents, and abilities; and

WHEREAS, Salvador and Rocio Amador-Robles, continue to provide Jonathan with love, encouragement, support and family connection;

NOW THEREFORE, this Board of Supervisors, County of Alameda, State of California does hereby recognize Jonathan Amador-Robles as the winner of the Juvenile Justice Partnership Logo Contest and extends their best wishes for his happiness and success.

KEITH CARSON, President
Supervisor, Fifth District

SCOTT HAGGERTY, Vice President
Supervisor, First District

RICHARD VALLE
Supervisor, Second District

WILMA CHAN
Supervisor, Third District

NATE MILEY
Supervisor, Fourth District