■ WHAT IS THE PROJECT?

Alameda County is working with the public to develop Environmental Justice policies and plan for healthy communities.

■ WHICH COMMUNITIES ARE INCLUDED?

The unincorporated communities of Ashland, Cherryland, Hayward Acres, and parts of San Lorenzo and Castro Valley are the focus of this project because they experience the greatest impacts of environmental pollution and other health hazards.

■ WHY IS THIS IMPORTANT?

With your input, this project will develop new programs and policies that help reduce pollution and improve access to healthy food, physical activity, and safe and sanitary housing in unincorporated Alameda County.

Please take the community survey to help us understand the environmental justice issues you care about most.
