Storm Surges and Sandbags

ALAMEDA COUNTY -- The Alameda County Public Works Agency is prepared for the storms currently affecting the Bay Area. Storm drains, flood control channels, and other drainage areas have been checked to ensure they are clean and functional. Public Works Agency crews continue to work throughout the County ensuring these drainage paths remain open and addressing any flooding issues that may arise.

Sandbags for residents are available at a variety of key locations throughout Alameda County. For a complete list, please visit the Public Works Agency website at www.acgov.org/pwa.

The Public Works Agency's website will be updated with any information of flooding, road closures, or other storm-related issues in unincorporated Alameda County.
