EOPS/EOP/CARE

Some colleges and universities do not have a program that is dedicated to support system-impacted individuals. However, there are other student programs that can provide resources to support you throughout your educational journey. These programs include, the Extended Opportunity Program & Services (EOPS) and Cooperative Agencies Resources for Education (CARE) available at all CA community colleges, and the Educational Opportunity Program (EOP) available at all CA 4-year universities. Contact these schools for more information.

See below for list of these campuses:

- Alameda County
 - Berkeley City College (Berkeley, CA)
 - Las Positas College (Livermore, CA)
 - Ohlone College (Fremont, CA)
- Napa County: Napa Valley College (Napa, CA)
- Santa Clara County
 - Evergreen Valley College (San Jose, CA)
 - Foothill College (Los Altos, CA)
 - Mission College (Santa Clara, CA)
 - San Jose City College (San Jose, CA)
 - West Valley College (Saratoga, CA)
- Sonoma County: Sonoma State University (Rohnert Park, CA)

Introduction

This brochure was created by Alameda County's Community Corrections Partnership (CCP) Education Subcommittee, in partnership with the Alameda County Probation Department. Information on this brochure was obtained from the Bay Area Systems Impacted Consortium (BASIC) Directory, which is produced by Urban Strategies Council.

In this brochure, you will find the contact information of college-based programs throughout the Bay Area in California that support systems-impacted individuals who are interested in pursuing a higher education. Please contact colleges that you are interested in for more information about their programs and services.
