

Program: Restorative Justice Circles

Program Description: The vision of restorative practices is to create a world where all people are cared about, valued, seen, and heard. Restorative practices are evidence-based processes that represent a lasting cultural shift, offering an approach to building safe and effective environments through positive relationships, connection, and accountability. Restorative Justice is about the interconnectivity of all of us – all CBO's and partners must work in collaboration – only then can we create the fundamental changes in people, in our relationships and in our communities.
