III. Castro Valley Traffic Circulation – Status update on Strobridge Extension

Art Carrera, Assistant Director, Public Works Agency, reported that CalTrans has approved the Public Works traffic study surrounding the reconfiguration of lanes along the west end of Castro Valley.

The analysis consisted of studying several options to modify areas of Stanton, Strobridge and Norbridge Avenues, along the west end of Castro Valley. The lanes will be reconfigured, allowing better traffic flow. Funding for the project has been identified by the Alameda County Transportation Authority (ACTA).

CalTrans has also given the County tentative approval to build on their right-of-way as an encroachment project. CalTrans previously wanted to sell the right-of-way to the County. The County saved over $2 million by not purchasing the property from CalTrans.

Prior to construction, there will be a series of community meetings for public input.
