Alameda County Women's Hall of Fame Honors Women's History Month

Though Women's History Month is ending, the transformative impact of women is worthy of unending recognition. Throughout history, women continue to blaze trails that have revolutionized our families, communities, culture, and world - in every way.

The Alameda County Women's Hall of Fame was established in 1993 by the Board of Supervisors in collaboration with the Commission on the Status of Women to celebrate local women making a difference in our community. To date, over 200 County heroes have been honored for their outstanding achievements.

"It's a duty and a privilege to recognize the powerful female voices that influence and inspire many throughout Alameda County, and the Women's Hall of Fame has been doing that for nearly 30 years", said Board President, Supervisor Keith Carson, as he shared the Board's commitment to saluting past Women's Hall of Fame honorees and highlighting the contributions of future inductees.

The Women's Hall of Fame has made significant contributions to community-based organizations supporting youth and families throughout the county. The Board prioritized investments in future changemakers by establishing the Women's Hall of Fame Mary V. King scholarship fund to support senior high school students on their journey to college.

While the pandemic has impacted the annual Women's Hall of Fame luncheon and awards ceremony, the commemoration and celebration will continue. Plans are underway for a Fall 2022 awards ceremony.
